

With musician Ellen Thomson children from Aylesbury Early Years Centre made their own instruments, little shakers, big shakers and long rain-sticks, filled with grains and pulses. Seventeen children aged 2 up took part in the six week development of a song which also featured wooden and origami paper creatures.

They especially liked the turkish drum which has a booming echo and when a handful of rice fell into it by mistake, they were thrilled by the stormy noises it made.

